SUMMARY

Elisa Tan (she/her, b. 2004) is a Diploma in Fine Arts student at LASALLE College of the Arts, graduating May 2026. She has a deep understanding of the local arts and creative scene, as a result of her experience as an exhibited artist and her work in commercial photography. Eager to contribute to a dynamic and contemporary-minded organisation to kickstart a career in the arts.

ARTIST STATEMENT

Elisa Tan (b. 2004, Singapore) is an intersectional, primarily lens-based artist whose works are deeply influenced by her interest in literature and phenomenological theory. Her personal projects include research into anthropocentrism and eroticism, chronic pain and the politics of care, and food as a ritualistic and artistic medium. She forms one half of the artist collective Feminomicron.

She has showcased her work internationally, with A Guide to Wearing Louis Vuitton Sunglasses at the Angkor Photo Festival in Siem Reap, Cambodia, and dead leaf echo at Objectifs Centre for Photography and Film in Singapore. She is currently furthering her education with a Diploma in Fine Arts at LASALLE College of the Arts Singapore. On the side, she rescues and rehabilitates frogs and other herptiles.
