

Emily Sim

Hi there! My name is Emily, a free-spirited artist who loves to draw, paint, and create. I specialise in printmaking and am driven by vibrant colours and playful, graphic visual styles, often working with whimsical, cartoon-inspired imagery.

Alongside printmaking, I explore photography, drawing, and digital art, using different mediums to expand my creative practice. I enjoy experimenting and learning new techniques as a way to develop my skills and ideas.

My work is inspired by everyday experiences and curiosity, and I'm drawn to colourful, imaginative visuals that communicate emotion and create a sense of joy or escape for viewers.

Through my practice, I aim to share playful, expressive work that connects with audiences, while continuing to grow and explore new creative directions.
