2026 project material shoot

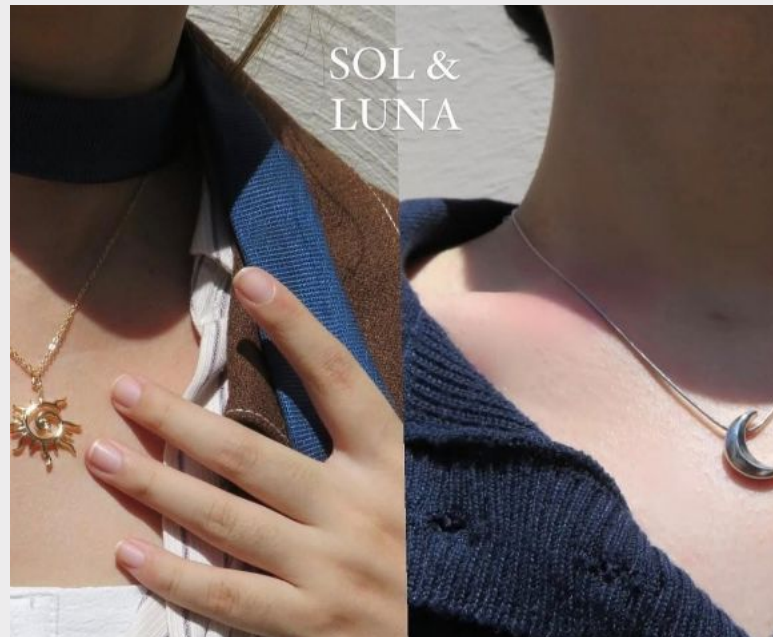

Hi, I'm Grace, I am 19 and currently a third year student at LASALLE College Of The Arts in Creative Direction for Fashion.

I am a humorous and hardworking creative, who is able to remain composed under pressure, tackling tasks and problems head on. As a creative i seek constant growth, I am not afraid of making mistakes and am always eager to learn . In every project, I channel my energy into bringing young energy to the table while maxing the potential of the project and the brief to the best of my abilities.

COMMON PEOPLE

A zine about fashion history, our lineage in style

IRINE KISHOR

Fashion Designer

a design in progress

designs utilize ethnic prints that come from her childhood, brought up in between Dubai and India. These prints are reminiscent of cultures she grew up in and her personality in searching. These prints are often hand-painted or screen-printed on the clothes designed for her works. Her designs also reflect her fusion with her personality. Caught in Dubai and India.

She mostly gets inspired through graffiti works, fine arts, ink-style printing, etc. She coins a lot of her inspirations from other forms of art like fine arts and paintings created by others in similar styles.

She is easy-going & inclusive as her main goal is to blend art and fashion. She questions a lot of how mutually exclusive are the two parts and how to fuse the two together. Irine uses classic silhouette to build off the simplicity of drapery in garments. Her interests lie mostly in patterns on pieces and how they affect the human body and the shape on them.

WHO IS SHE

Year One BA (Hon) Fashion Design student at Lasalle College of Arts. She currently experiments with different mediums and styles to incorporate personal styles in her designs.

Exploring Irine Kishor's multicultural journey, she breaks boundaries by covering her passion. She aims to fuse art with fashion, using huge silhouettes influenced by Yohji Yamamoto) to ethnic & abstract designs, she does not fear to 'go crazy' with everything.

plan to frame the story to show how she determines her own fashion identity and use of style by striving to find the balance and maximize her abilities. This aligns with her journey to embrace the cultures which she grew up with, both act as guiding pillars in her fashion identity.
